UW drive exceeds $100,000

For the first time ever, Sedalia-Pettis County United Way contributions and pledges exceed the $100,000 mark, it was announced Friday at a noon meeting of the United Way board of directors.

As of Friday morning, a record $100,250.46 has been collected or pledged, or $7,050.46 over the campaign goal of $93,200. In the last few years, the local effort failed to reach its goal.

The fact that the magic $100,000 mark was finally achieved was evidenced in the voice of publicity chairman Pat Allen, who called The Democrat-Capital Friday morning with the news that a last-minute contribution in the business division had pushed the total over the

"It's great for everybody and for every agency," he said. .

At the luncheon meeting at the State Fair Restaurant, campaign chairman Bob Wolf congratulated the fund-raising leaders, their volunteer helpers and those persons and firms who made contributions and pledges. "The real winners," he said, "are the community and the 16 agencies which make up the United Way."

The following agencies will be fully funded for the coming year: Boys' Club, $9,000; Boy Scouts, $11,500; cancer research, $1,000; cerebral palsy, $6,500; Girl Scouts, $8,000; heart research, $500; Meals-on-wheels, $750; Melita Day Nursery, $5,000; Minniolia Day Nursery, $5,000; and Mercy Hospital, $2,500.

Other fully-funded agencies and groups are: the mentally retarded, $900; Pettis County children's fund, $1,500; Pettis County Regional Counseling Center, $650; Pettis County 4-H Clubs, $1,000; the Red Cross, $15,500; and the Salvation Army, $12,500.

The United Way office will receive $7,000 and $4,400 will go to the uncollectables fund

As of Friday, the business division led the way in contributions and pledges with $37,310.13. Other divisional contributions are: industrial, $36,394.16: professional, $7,283; residential, $6,253.13; government, $5,075.04; education, $4,794; and county, $2,111. Advance gifts total

Sick son wheeled to hospital

HOUSTON (AP) - A crippled man said he wheeled his wheelchair 8 miles to a hospital with his sick 14-month-old son on his lap because he didn't have enough money to take a bus or a taxi and he couldn't reach friends or relatives for help when the baby became ill

Ted Ramirez, 44, a former carpet layer who has been confined to a wheelchair for two years, said it took him four hours to make the trip across town. He said an 8-year-old son walked beside him to steady the wheelchair.

His hands were blistered and bleeding when he arrived at the hospital, doctors said.

Doctors at Ben Taub City-County Hospital checked the baby's ear infection and treated the father's hands. They gave Ramirez enough money for a taxi ride home.

"The father had rubbed his palms raw pushing that wheelchair and that's got to be remarkable," Dr. James

Watkins, a pediatric resident, said of the incident that occurred last week

Ramirez said the baby, Steve, appeared to be getting worse after two days of being sick. He said he tried to get a ride through a neighborhood clinic but was told he would have to get to the hospital on his own. The clinic later said there was a misunderstanding.

An unidentified woman gave him a ride the final five blocks

"I only had 30 cents," Ramirez said. "We stopped about halfway and I bought a Coke for us to split." One-way bus fare would have been at least 60 cents.

Ramirez' knees were damaged in 1973 by a falling roll of carpet. He said he receives some welfare and disability payments to support his family of 10, but the exact amount

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Contest winner Larry Baker and his wife Martha were given one day to spend $15,000. No

By lunchtime they had spent $7,033.65, Mrs. Baker calculated. During the afternoon session, they quickly bought a vacuum cleaner, china, crystal, and sporting goods. Now it was time for pure self-indulgence.

"We each allowed ourselves $2,000 for whatever we wanted-luxuries, crazy things, anything," Mrs. Baker said. First they solved Baker's wardrobe problems. Then they entered the fur department. A raccoon coat disappeared off the rack. Then Mrs. Baker saw a $1,250 blue fox coat. She tried it on and looked at her husband hesitantly

Jobless rate dips

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's unemployment rate edged down from 7 percent to 6.9 percent in November, still within the narrow range in which it has fluctuated since April, the government reported today.

But the number of Americans with jobs increased by nearly one million last month, the largest monthly rise since April 1960, when it increased by 1.3

After the latest jobless figures were released today, White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said the Carter administration was not going to attain its goal of reducing unemployment to 6.5 percent by the end of the year.

"It's not likely to be there," Powell said, referring to the jobless rate.

The Labor Department said total employment rose by 950,000 to 92.2 million in November and the proportion of the population with jobs rose to an all-time high of 57.8 percent.

The job figures are based on a survey of 47,000 households nationwide taken each month by the Census Bureau. A more accurate, but less comprehensive, measure is the Labor Department's monthly survey of business establishments, which showed that non-farm payroll employment rose by 310,000 in November to 83.2 million.

Average weekly earnings, however, declined $1.08 from the previous month to $194.40. Weekly earnings have risen by $13.90 over the year.

In October, unemployment edged up from 6.9 percent to 7 percent, the same rate as in April. Nearly 6.9 million Americans were without jobs in October.

The stagnation in the unemployment figures indicates the economy hasn't been growing fast enough

Labor members asked to give to defeat law

JEFFERSON ČITY, Mo. (AP) Every labor union local in Missouri is being asked to contribute 50 cents a member to fill a campaign chest to defeat proposed right-to-work legislation

The effort is being spearheaded by the United Labor Committee, a labor group representing 575,000 Missouri workers. Vincent Van Camp, president of the AFL-CIO's Labor Council, said nine new labor lobbyists will be working in Jefferson City when the legislature convenes next month. Their sole target, he said, is right-to-work

The AFL-CIO has been joined by the Teamsters, United Auto Workers, and United Mine Workers in opposition to right-to-work laws, whereby a union shop would be banned, Van Camp said.

A union shop is an agreement between labor and management requiring employees to either join a union or pay union dues.

The National Right to Work Committee has picked Missouri as one of six target states to try to pass such legislation. "Perhaps we have looked at our own navel too much and worked too hard for the benefits of our own union members,' said Donald J. Gralike, president of a St. Louis electrical workers local and outgoing chairman of the statewide United Labor Committee.

"Organized labor has not really dipped into its resources and exerted the proper amount of pressure on legislators," he

A right-to-work bill is expected to be prefiled before the legislature meets. The last attempt to pass a similar law died in committee in 1973.

Gralike said he expects business interests to seek a referendum on the issue in November if the legislature fails to pass a right-to-work law.

According to testimony gathered by Carver at a hearing Aug. 30 in the Pettis County Courthouse, Jack Morris was raised but never legally adopted by William Morris, who died in Sedalia on Dec. 10, 1974, without executing a will to his estate.

Following his death, Jack Morris sought control of the William Morris estate. He filed the complaint against Miller prior to an Oct. 29, 1976, hearing in Pettis County Circuit Court, when he was ruled by Judge Robert E. Russell as the

Comic strip 'Peanuts' to start Sunday

You asked for it. You got it. "Peanuts," the most popular comic strip in America, will start Sunday in The Sedalia Democrat. It will also run daily in The Democrat and Capital.

Created by Charles M. Schulz, "Peanuts" includes a gallery of characters who have become household words: Charlie Brown, Lucy, Schroeder and, of course, .Snoopy, among others.

In a recent survey of our readers, 'Peanuts' led the list of comics you would most like to see in The Democrat-Capital. You will, starting this Sunday

Also making his debut in the Sunday comics will be the well-known jungle hero, "Tarzan." Other improvements will be made in the comic section in the near future as part of The Democrat-Capital's continuing effort to better serve its readers

MEWS GLIMPSES Evangelical leaders are defending Israel

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Conservative evengelicai leaders. ordinarily critical of religious involvement in political affairs, have begun speaking out strongly in support of the State of Israel.

Their swelling advocacy of that cause stems mainly from an exacting application of passages in the Bible.

What drew evangelicals into the fray was the recent joint U.S.-Soviet statement about 'legitimate rights'' of a "Palestinian homeland," note that had widely disturbed American Jews, sensing a shift in U.S. policy.
On one of the thorniest issues, the evangelical leaders defend Israel's right to Jerusalem and Jordan's west bank, wrested from Jordan in the 1967 war, declaring "most evangelicals" uphold Israel's right to it, and adding:

of investigation bill, have been considered by the lawmakers before. Sen. Edwin Dirck, D-St. Ann, introduced the bill to give income tax credits for fuel costs. It would allow couples whose joint income was under $20,000 to get an income tax credit of $25 to offset the cost of their utility bills. Individuals with incomes of under $10,000 would get a $12.50 credit.

Rep. William O'Toole, D-St. Louis, prefiled the bill on governmental immunity. The Missouri Supreme Court has struck down the legal doctrine of "sovereign immunity," making local governments liable for damage suits.

Because of the court's ruling, local officials have been concerned there will be a rash of suits and they hoped to get laws passed by the 1978 session to provide them legal protection.

Another Senate bill would give income tax credits for installing solar heating units, adequate insulation and other energy saving measures.

Jobless benefit payments decline in Pettis County

Unemployment insurance benefit payments dropped $29,260 between September and October in Pettis County, although the unemployment rate declined only .2 percent during the same time period.

Payments for October were $94,548, compared to $123,808 in September. The unemployment rate for the same time periods dropped from 5.6 to 5.4 percent, according to the local Office of Employment Security. Unemployment percentage rates for area counties during October were: Benton, 3.2; Cooper, 2.3; Henry, 3.2; Johnson, 3.1; Lafayette, 3.0; Miller, 4.9; Moniteau, 6.0; Morgan, 5.8; and Saline, Statewide, seasonal influences were credited with reducing the unemployment rate from 4.8 percent in September to 4.7 percent at mid-October, considerably below the 5.4 percent unemployment rate during the same time period in 1976.

Allow criminals to be executed by Spainhower wants duties to be shifted

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — State Treasurer James Spainhower says the duties of either his office or the secretary son by adoption and legal heir to the of state should be given to the lieutenant

'The Missouri Constitution designates so few duties to the lieutenant governor that the office holder is virtually without authority or responsibility,"- the Democratic treasurer said.

Spainhower's comments, made Thursday to the state Senate's Committee on Constitutional Amendments and Reorganization, were among several suggestions he offered on the responsibility and selection of statewide elected

Considered a possible 1980 primary opponent for incumbent Gov. Joseph Teasdale, Spainhower also renewed his support for appointment rather than election of the state auditor and opposed proposals to have the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor run as a team as the presidential and vice sale of property to Mrs. Miller and appresidential candidates do.

Spainhower said the constitution should be changed to require a lieutenant governor who has permanently become governor during his term to stand for election at the next general election if he a month before the mid-term election is

Noting that the duties of the lieutenant governors of Alaska and Hawaii have already been expanded and the office abolished in seven other states, Spainhower told the committee the lack of full-time duties for Missouri's lieutenant governor "opens the door to the possibility of conflict of interest or influence peddling.'

Incumbent Republican Lt. Gov. William Phelps, who has won two terms in that office on a platform that he would serve full time, has initiated state volunteer and ombudsman programs in an effort to make his job a full-time one. But Teasdale, a Democrat, has taken every opportunity to halt expansion of the lieutenant governor's duties beyond those few outlined in the constitution.

Tax reduction would be about $20-25 billion

WASHINGTON (AP) - Taxes would be cut between $20 billion and $25 billion next year, with three-fourths of the savings going to individuals, under a plan that President Carter likely will propose, knowledgeable sources report. Sources both in and out of government say the tax reduction now under consideration compares with a range of $15 billion to $20 billion previously discussed by the administration. And the share that would apply to individuals has been raised from two-thirds. The changes reflect concern that the economy will need more help from a stimulative tax boost after mid-1978 than was thought.

Sources said Thursday that the minimum cut would be $20 billion, with $15 billion for individuals and the remainder for business. The reductions probably will be accomplished largely by lowering the tax rates, especially at lower and middle income levels.

Carter, who is expected to begin completing his tax plan within the next two weeks, said at a news conference Wednesday that he would propose a "substantial tax reduction" to Congress. Whatever the final amount of the cut, Carter is expected to ask that about three-fourths of it be for individuals, with the remainder for business. Previous discussions involved giving two-thirds of the cut to individuals and one-third to

Smith's "acceptance" of one-man, one-vote was supposed to blind the world to the fact that a lot of boys and girls were killed in those raids into Mozambi-

> Slick Smith could declare acceptance of what in effect means black majority rule because he attached conditions that

1. It would be utterly rejected by Robert Mugabe and his Zimbabwe African National Union and Joshua Nkomo and his Zimbabwe African Smith regime.

2. The proposal would divide blacks, with those leaders still in Rhodesia (Bishop Abel Muzorewa, the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole and Chief Jeremiah Chirau) assuming that Smith's plan would make them rulers of a free Zimbabwe rather than either Mugabe or

3. The U.S., and probably Great Britain, would also reject his plan because it would turn Rhodesia into another Angola. Smith obviously wants to pit black group against black group in the forlorn hope that out of the carnage he will emerge still dominant.

Peoples' Union, the two major exile debacle where it let the Russians and proper role in governing, with blacks groups waging military assaults on the Cubans grab a beachhead in Africa, is not falling for Smith's game. It has told Smith that elections to achieve a lasting peace in Rhodesia must include nationalist elements living outside Rhodesia, and not just those blacks inside Rhodesia whom Smith believes to be his patsies.

> So the Smith plan will go nowhere. The violence will be escalated as Mugabe's and Nkomo's armies retaliate for Smith's assaults into Mozambique. We may yet see a Soviet-Cuban involvement.

The pity is that embodied in Smith's "acceptance" of one-man, one-vote there is a formula for ending the carnage — if only Smith meant it. That formula is to The U.S., a lot wiser since the Angolan hand peacefully to the black majority a

"You would not believe the kind of panic this...caused in the voting machine company. But as a result, five or six people...started to talk as soon as the agents hit them.'

Another major abuse, Seymour today.

> Thus, by alleging conspiracy, the prosecutor can just about choose the most favorable location for the trial. He can also pyramid the charges, accusing each defendant of the others' crimes, which puts more pressure on the defendants and creates a greater media splash.

Nor is it uncommon for prosecutors to join forces against anyone who attacks them. Testified Rodney Sager: "We're talking about a paternal organization. That paternal organization is the Department of Justice. And most of the U.S. attorneys, Assistant U.S. attorneys...in that fraternal concept, if one is attacked, most come to his aid.'

Some prosecutors bring their aggressive tactics into the trial court. If the testimony takes a bad turn, for example, former New Jersey prosecutor Martin G. Halloran urged: "Get up and make objections. Make spurious objections. Just get up there. Get the defense counsel off the track. Just get up, object, knock over some water. Do something. We are in search of the truth; there is no question about that. But it is still an adversary proceeding, and you want to win.'

Not all government attorneys, of course, press for convictions at the expense of justice. Many still believe that fair play and individual rights are more important than sending pople to jail. But the quality of justice depends increasingly on the prosecuting attorney handling

A case of hydrophobia

By DOUG KNEIBERT

The doctor will see you now, sir.

I stretched out on the couch. I could hear the doctor leafing through some papers in a file.

"Let's see," he said, "you first came to see me back in 1971. Something about your roof leaking. Then you were back three years later. Same complaint.'

"That's right, Doc. I'm beginning to think my condition is chronic.'

"Why don't you tell me about it."

"As you say, it started six years ago. Back then we had a plaster ceiling. Now we know better. Ceiling board can be ripped out so much quicker, and it only costs 160 bucks a throw.

"There, there. Would you like a drink of water while you get a hold on yourself?"

"Did you say 'water'?"

"Does that word disturb you? Please

"Well, the first roof man put down new felt and retarred the surface, for 40 bucks. But as soon as I had replaced the ceiling, it began leaking again. This time they told me I needed the back of my house re-shingled. That only cost me

"Who are 'they'?"

"People who fix roofs. To be more exact, the people who tell you they fix

"At any rate, when that didn't work, I capped the chimney and put down new flashing for the utility lead-ins at the suggestion of some other experts.

"Then what happened?"

"The roof leaked."

"But it seems ridiculous that no one could fix it," said the doctor.

"That's what I thought, so I called in another repairman. He said I needed some more work on the roof. He put down additional layers of felt and enough tar to pave my driveway."

"And?"

"Now I have another fear-that my ceiling will collapse on me while I'm eating breakfast some morning.'

"But that fixed it?"

"Yes, for two blissful years. I used to stand in the dining room while it rained cats and dogs, admiring my dry ceiling. I would show it off proudly to guests. My appetite improved and I began to sleep at

"Then?"

"It was just before Thanksgiving that I noticed it. I was putting leaves in the table when I glanced up and there it was, the same ugly brown stain. And it keeps getting bigger. Since then I've been talking to myself, and the other night I awoke to find myself on top of the roof holding a double-bit ax in my hands.

"Can you help me, Doc?"

"You don't need a psychiatrist," he said, "just a good roof man."

I told him that at $50 an hour, I thought he might be cheaper.

Library explained

Kiwanians heard a report on the Sedalia Public Library at their luncheon meeting Thursday at the Bothwell

Librarian Don Morton said one of the most important improvements at the library was the exterior waterproofing that was done this year. The stone was cleaned and two coats of epoxy sealer were applied, Morton said, at a cost of $41,000.

While conceding that the cost was high, Morton said the treatment will last 40 years if the building is properly maintained. "That's a lot of money, but do you want the building or not," Morton stated, pointing out that something had to be done to help preserve the 76year-old structure.

Morton said paperwork is being done to get the library on the National Register of Historic Buildings. The library was the first in the state to be constructed under a grant from Andrew Carnegie.

The library must soon address itself to the problem of space, said Morton, noting, "Right now, we are at the peak of capacity." He said two floors of the library will not support book shelves because of stress problems.

Morton said he was particularly proud of the li-brary's outreach program and its children's program, calling the latter the finest in the state in his opinion. Elvera Satterwhite is children's librarian.

Kansas plans to expand car probe

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — An investigation into the sale of flood-damaged cars from the Kansas City area will be expanded by the attorney general's office to cover several insurance companies and car dealers who may have sold the vehicles to unsuspecting buyers.

Bill Griffith, head of the attorney general's office of consumer protection, said Thursday he has information that several insurance companies used improper procedures to dispose of the vehicles.

The Allstate Insurance Co. has repurchased or reimbursed 108 persons who unknowingly bought cars flooded Sept. 12. The insurance company paid claims to policy holders, took the cars and sold

There is strong reason to believe that dealers did not inform the buyers that the vehicles had been involved in the flood, he said.

Griffith said Thursday that Allstate had informed him it had located approximately 60 of the 80 remaining vehicles in question and that negotiations were underway for their purchase.

Cases where there were apparent deceptive practices by dealers will be presented to the Kansas director of motor vehicles, who has the power to levy fines, suspend or revoke dealer licenses.

Dole urges action on oil imports

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen Robert Dole, R-Kan., has ask-ed President Carter "to take the necessary steps" against administration actions which he said help foreign countries boost palm oil production in competition with U.S. soybean farmers.

Palm oil imports from Indonesia and other leading producers have been criticized in recent years by U.S. soybean producers. Soybeans, in addition to high-protein meal for livestock feed, provide vegetable oil for margarine and other food products.

Producers have complained that palm oil imports cut into their markets and that the U.S. government through financial support of the World Bank and other international financing programs have helped foreign countries develop palm oil plantations.

Carter had indicated in a letter Oct. 7 to Rep. Clarence Long, D-Md., that such financial support would not be provided. Dole said.

 $\label{eq:decomposition} \textbf{DEAR POLLY} - \textbf{There are several spots of candle } wax$ on my lovely embroidered linen tablecloth and have not laundered it as I am waiting for you to tell me how to remove them. — HELEN F.

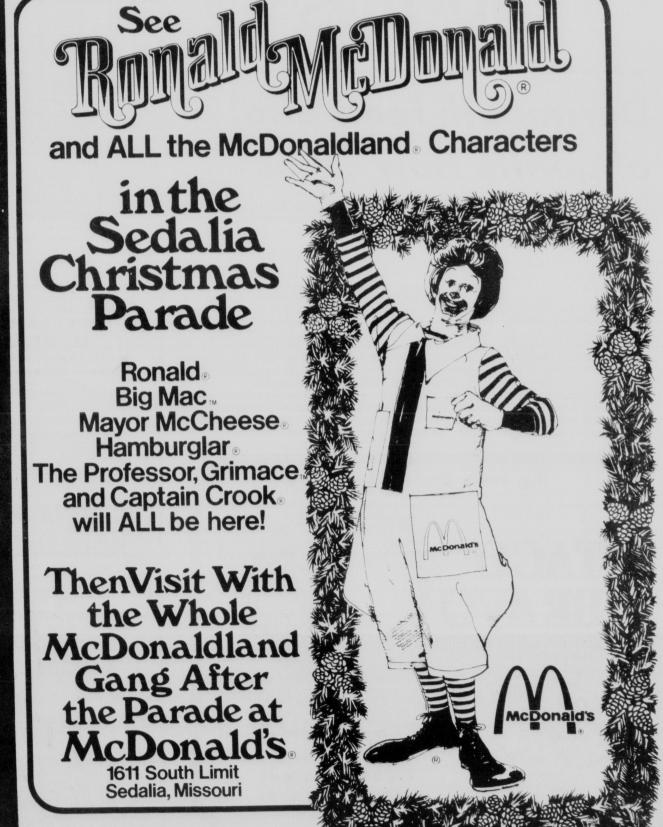

Dear Helen F. — The following method for removing candle wax is recommended by the Soap and Detergent association. Scrape off any excess wax. Place stained parts between two white blotters and press with a hot iron. Then rub spots with cold lard or turpentine and wash in warm suds. - POLLY.

DEAR POLLY - Like Susan I could not find a non-skid material to use for the bottoms of the feet on pajamas I made for my grandchildren. I tried a light weight rubber backed drapery fabric and it worked beautifully. I put a piece of the pajama material on the inside of each foot to make it soft. Hope this helps Susan. - ANNA MARY.

DEAR POLLY - My Pet Peeve is with friends and relatives who bring their children to visit and then allow them to run helter skelter through the house. They act as if there is nothing wrong in letting a child bang on the piano, turn the knobs on the television set and so on. I begrudge serving refreshments to such children as they invariably spill things and the parents ignore it and some of these are highly educated professional people. This is annoying when you think you have graduated from sticky door knobs and spilled punch. Such parents hold a tight rein in their own homes so why are they insensitive in another's? - MARVA.

Premer's 32 points leads Bunceton into final

By RON HIGGINS Staff Sportswriter

HUGHESVILLE - Senior guard Jerry Premer put on an outstanding shooting performance here Thursday night in the second annual Northwest Invitational Tournament, pacing the first-seeded Bunceton Dragons, now 8-0, to a 72-48 victory over the host and fourth-seeded Northwest Mustangs.

All the hot-shooting Premer did was amaze everyone with a 32-point performance. Premer is now averaging 27 points in the tournament, coming off a 22-point night Monday in Bunceton's 68-45 win over Pilot Grove.

The other Thursday night game was a battle for a spot in Saturday's consolation final. The Otterville Eagles earned the berth getting past a stubborn Pilot Grove team 46-40.

Northwest never did control the lead as Premer immediately put his Dragons on top at the start of the game. Premer alone outscored the Mustang team in the first quarter dropping in 10 points to Northwest's 9. The Bunceton guard wasn't the only Dragon to score, though, as Coach Gene Premer's team claimed a 17-9 advantage at the close of

Bunceton padded its lead to 22-9 early in the second quarter before Northwest's Steve Reid put the Mustangs on the

The Mustangs battled back within eight points twice in the quarter, but when it appeared they might get a rally rolling, they turned the ball over to choke any possible chances.

The Mustangs stayed within reach at the close of the first half, 29-19, but both Davie and Steve Reid got into foul trouble

After Northwest opened the second half with a basket pulling within eight points, 29-21, Davie Reid promptly collected his fourth personal and sat out until the fourth quarter. Reid, averaging 12.3 points to lead the Mustangs in that category, was missed the rest of the third quarter as Bunceton worked up a 48-33 cushion. Premer tallied 12 of the Dragons' 19 points

After Bunceton managed a 62-39 lead in the final quarter,

Coach Premer emptied his bench. Steve Reid led Northwest with 12 points.

Otterville had to struggle to subdue Pilot Grove. The largest lead Pilot Grove allowed the Otterville team was eight points - that late in the game.

Pilot Grove started out looking more like one of the topseeded teams in the tournament instead of the eighth-seeded

The Tigers mounted an early 6-0 lead in the opening minutes of play before Otterville could recover. When the Eagles did recover, they fought back in the last three minutes of the period scoring eight straight points to steal the lead as the quarter ended.

Pilot Grove had the lead once in the second quarter 15-14, before the Eagles came back to take a 21-19 halftime lead.

Otterville controlled the second half, riding double figure scoring from three players - Mark Cole, Robert Milazzo and Tim Welch. Cole paced the Eagles with 15.

After Otterville rolled up a 35-28 advantage ending the third quarter, Pilot Grove rallied to trim the deficit to two, 37-35, midway through the final period.

Pilot Grove's Gary Lammers, the only Tiger in double figures with 20, captured game honors.

Broken leg puts Freund on hold

For Lenny Freund, Sacred Heart's basketball season hasn't even begun yet.

Freund, a letterman last year, has been sidelined so far. He was working out to get in shape for the season back in September when he was struck by a car and suffered a

But as Coach Tom Jennewein says, "A loss for the varsity was a gain for the junior varsity.

Unable to play, Freund has spent his time helping to coach the junior varsity. "He's done a real fine job," says Jennewein. "He wants to become a coach so it's been good for him."

A 6-1 senior, Freund hopes to get the cast off his leg early this month and start playing in January.

In addition to basketball, Freund has lettered three

And Payton, who broke Simpson's 273-yard single-game record two weeks ago with a 275-yard effort, is 94 yards ahead of the 2,003-yard pace O.J. set in 1973. But Payton will have to close with a rush the way O.J. did, with a couple of 200-plus-

Oakland still has hopes of Hughesville 48 overtaking Denver -Broncos have a one-game lead American Football Conference West, while the Rams are more concerned with clinching the NFC West title. Los Angeles is two games ahead of Atlanta; and a victory, coupled with a New England triumph over the Falcons, would wrap up the title for the Rams.

The Steelers need a victory to remain at least one game ahead of the mob (Cleveland, Cincinnati and Houston) in the AFC Central. Similarly, Dallas can take another step toward clinching the crown in the NFC East, which it leads by two games.

The 597 pages of FBI memos show the agency kept a close watch on Oswald after his from the Soviet Union in June

But the bureau apparently lost track of him for several weeks in September and October 1963. Kennedy was killed in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

The memos show that FBI officials at one point speculated that the bullets which killed Kennedy may have come from an ammunition order originally produced for the CIA. An FBI firearms expert later testified that this type of ammunition was readily available for public purchase.

The FBI memos are the first of 40,000 pages the agency will release Dec. 7 to comply with requests under the Freedom of Information Act for the records of its investigation of Kennedy's death. Another 40,000 pages will be made public later.

When Oswald returned to this country with his Russianborn wife Marina in 1962, the FBI monitored his movements return to the United States closely until September 1963. He and his wife had been living in New Orleans until then, and agents believed the couple was moving to Dallas, but they picked up some reports that Oswald had been seen in Mexico.

Agents in Dallas, Little Rock and New Orleans were put on alert to locate him, and the Dallas agents on Nov. 1 determined that Mrs. Oswald was living in nearby Irving with Ruth Paine.

Mrs. Paine told the agents that Oswald was working at the Texas School Book Depository and that he sometimes visited his wife and newborn child. The memo said Mrs. Paine told the agents she didn't know where Oswald was living.

The files give no indication that agents tried to contact Oswald between Nov. 1 and Nov. 22, when Kennedy was The first batch was provided shot from a window at the

I think I read in one of your columns that if you have a low cholesterol, you can eat all the eggs you want. Is this true?

I am 6 feet 3, and weigh 200 pounds. I lift weights and exercise an hour daily. My physician says I'm in good health, but I must get the flabbiness, which is minor, off my abdomen. Please tell me how. I do numerous situps, to no

Dear Reader - Cholesterol is an important risk factor only if the amount in the blood is elevated. If your cholesterol level is below 220 and the test is accurate, certainly it is not an important factor in heart or vascular disease. If it stays that way, you can indeed eat cholesterol in your diet as long as eating foods containing it doesn't result in too many calories and in turn too much body fat.

The only reason we recommend restriction of dietary cholesterol is to prevent the blood level from being too high and increasing the risk of heart and vascular disease. It is a good idea to have fairly frequent checks if you decide to consume more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol a CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: If ABC-TV and the producers of 'Charlie's Angels' are planning to go ahead with their suit to prevent Farrah Fawcett-Majors from working for anyone else (she split the 'Angels' scene but is still under contract), they better think again. The lady's manager Jay Bernstein says his gal is ready to countersue the network for $40 million if she is prevented from working in her new movie 'Somebody Killed Her Husband.' Bernstein says that the show's suit would be ridiculous in any case because the show continues to be rated in TV's top five, thereby obviating any claim that Farrah's leave-taking caused any hardship for the series, the producers or the network . . . The film 'Network' was less than kind to TV folks, so the industry is going to tell its side of the story in a six-hour mini-series called 'Television,' scripted by Howard Rodman for NBC. Rodman will also pen a 'Television' novel to be published simultaneously with the series'-airing. Both will take a more 'positive' view of tube types . . . Cheryl Ladd tried to sneak into Studio 54 for a little boogie the other night by putting her hair up. It didn't work and Charlie's 'Angel' was mobbed by photographers and forced to split.

EYE ON TV: When Dick Van Dyke showed up at the CBS EYE ON TV: When Dick Van Dyke showed up at the CBS studios to begin taping a 'Carol Burnett Show,' the security guard didn't know who he was and refused to admit Dick or call anyone to check on him. Since he couldn't get the guard to move off the dime, Dick took one out of his pocket, went to a pay phone and called Carol to have someone let him in . . Wheeling and dealing, Rock Hudson and Lee Remick are paired in a forthcoming TV mini-series called 'Wheels.' The 10-hour series on NBC is based on Arthur Hailey's novel about the American auto industry. Rock plays a top exec who neglects his wife. Lee plays the wife, who retaliates by having an affair and taking up shoplifting.

INSIDE THE TUBE: Cher has come back to Hollywood all smiles, even though she left husband Gregg Allman behind at Silver Hill in Connecticut for further treatment. They had a coupie of happy weeks together in New York and that spells reconciliation . . . At 59, Dean Martin is looking remarkably youthful; even those graying temples have turned brown again . . One of TV's superstar comedians faces a $3 million lawsuit brought by his former weight-exercise expert who says. "I'm tired of helping him to lose weight, only to have him turn around and give all the credit to Weight Watcher's on TV." . . . You know of course that cute Marie Osmond has been dating one of the 'Hardy Boys,' Parker Stevenson. But there she was in Swenson's, the Westwood ice-cream parlor, one recent night with the other one, Shaun Cassidy. And holding hands, too! . . Ed Asner of 'Lou Grant' is on such a health kick, besides all the weight he took off, that he's quit smoking after 20 years of packand-a-half a day. He credits Mary Tyler Moore with persuading his wife Nancy to cut ciggies last year and then Nancy got busy on him . . . "All my ex-wives know that within me somewhere there's a pussycat." Telly Savalas confides. The star of 'Kojak' would add even more: "Some men can't stand their ex-wives, and some ex-wives can't stand their old husbands. But all my ex-wives love me. They adore me and want me back! I was born with a romantic nature and I'll carry it to my grave. It's my misfortune I never stayed married. I have gorilla luck when it comes to women." . . World famed racing car ace Paul Newman has started a Tonka Toys racing cars collection.

concert special that will feature the classic original jazz version of 'Rhapsody in Blue.'

The program, taped at a standing-room-only concert this past summer at Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts near Washington, D.C.. is a musical journey through the King of Swing's 40 years as a jazzman from the early tunes he first played in Chicago to a collection of modern rock-jazz melodies he's added to his repertoire in the last few years.

his repertoire in the last few years.

Wolf Trap jazz fans clearly enjoyed both the old and the new songs. But the hit of the night was, without question, 'Rhapsody in Blue.' In the 53 years since George Gershwin composed the piece, it has become an American classic—most frequently performed by full symphony orchestras. However, 'Rhapsody in Blue was originally written for a jazz band. And that's how Goodman presented it at Wolf Trap.

"We're doing practically the original orchestration of Rhapsody in Blue." Goodman said. The number, he added, was composed for Paul Whiteman's orchestra and was first presented on February 12, 1924. During that historic concert, Gershwin played the piano and Ross Gorman opened the 'Rhapsody' with the glissando that even today is one of the most difficult passages ever scored for the clarinet.

In the special, Goodman and his big band also perform 'Let's Dance.' 'King Porter Stomp' and 'When Your Lover Has Gone. In addition. Goodman and his sextet play 'Avalon.' 'Here's That Rainy Day.' 'That's a 'Plenty' and 'Sing, Sing, Sing.'

Guide tells how to cope with winter

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Department of Energy on Thursday spelled out tactics to cope with any winter shortages of natural gas, oil, coal, propane, or hydroelectric power, including possible allocation of fuels and mandatory thermostat settings.

David J. Bardin, head of the department's Economic Regulatory Administration and chairman of a special task force, issued a two-volume 'Energy Emergency Planning Guide.' He said it is not a fixed plan of action, but rather a set of guidelines.

The guide points out, for example, that the imposition of mandatory thermostat settings in non-residential buildings would be so hard to enforce and have such uncertain fuelsaving benefits that it probably would not be applied except in an extreme fuel shortage

The government prepared fuel emergency plans in past years, but these were mainly linked to immediate problems such as the Arab oil embargo of 1973-74, and the chronic winter shortages of natural gas.

The new planning guide is the first major attempt at a comprehensive outline of potential problems in all the major energy sources and the steps open to federal and state agencies to deal with

The department last month forecast less severe natural gas shortages this winter than last, if the weather is normal. Even in a hard winter, substitute fuels should be available to avoid economic hardship in most areas, it said.

But the guide points out that energy emergencies could develop in a number of other ways.

An immediate threat is the possibility of a strike against bituminous coal mines by the United Mine Workers after the Dec. 6 expiration of their current labor contract. Another is a possible strike by railroad workers which would hamper coal transportation.

The guide reported that coal burning power plants appear to have about a 90day stockpile of coal. It said other coalburning industries may have enough for almost two months.

Controversy may affect payday here

Unless interim funding is renewed or the congressional abortion controversy resolved in the next few days, employees of the local Social Security Administration office, 825 Thompson Blvd., will receive incomplete checks on their next payday Dec. 13.

Owen Smith, manager of the local office, said checks issued on that date should cover the weeks of Nov. 21-25 and Nov. 28-Dec. 2. However, because the second straight month of interim funding terminated at midnight Wednesday, wages for the first two days of December cannot be authorized. If a House-Senate compromise on the controversy is reached in the next few days, or if a third month of interim funding is approved soon, the salaries for Dec. 1-2 could be included in the Dec. 13 checks, Smith explained.

The next payday following Dec. 13 is Dec. 27. Smith said he has not yet heard from his supervisors at the regional HEW headquarters in Kansas City

Rural residents urged to join farm ID program

Rural Pettis County residents have been urged by Sheriff Don Stratton to participate in farm identification program sponsored by the Missouri Farm Bureau in cooperation with the Missouri Sheriff's Association and the State Highway Patrol.

More local participation in the program is being sought, Stratton said, because it benefits both the victims of thefts and law enforcement agencies.

Owners of stolen machinery or other items bearing identification numbers assigned under the program can be traced within minutes after the item's

Farm Bureau members may check out the necessary marking tools from the local Farm Bureau office, the sheriff said. The Farm Bureau office also has an electrical engraving tool for household appliances, he noted. The Farm Bureau markers may be checked out between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through

Marking stamps are also available through the sheriff's department and may be checked out between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily at the county jail.

Ten-digit numbers, which will be assigned to each individual participant, contain designations for the state, county and individual owners in the nationwide program, Stratton said.

WASHINGTON — There may be more grim news for coffee, tea and cola drinkers, who have already been warned that saccharin may kill as it sweetens. Now a new, super-secret study is expected to warn that the caffeine in the three beverages could affect the health of unborn babies.

The federal government, stung by the controversy over its earlier attempts to ban saccharin, is treating the new findings cautiously. The authorities, nevertheless, are contemplating a strong warning against caffeine.

There are an estimated 75 to 100 milligrams of caffeine in a cup of coffee, 45 in a can of cola, 30 in a cup of tea, and 20 in a one-ounce chocolate bar. Only last September, a University of Illinois team found that too much caffeine could cause birth complications.

Of 16 pregnant women who drank six to effects are permanent. eight cups of coffee per day, all but one had nasty consequences. Eight of the women spontaneously aborted; five babies were born dead; two babies were premature but survived.

This sampling was so small, however, that its danger signal was played down. But now another team of scientists, this one at the University of Washington, has come up with corroborative findings.

This project, under Dr. Ann Streissguth, began as a study of the effect of alcohol consumption upon pregnancies. For added enlightenment, the scientists studied 105 excessive caffeine drinkers as well. Their babies were carefully examined within two days after

Dr. Streissguth insisted her findings are "preliminary" and begged us not to print them. We believe pregnant women should be alerted at once, however, that caffeine may affect the health of their unborn babies

Her researchers carefully balanced the caffeine drinkers against a 'control group," thus isolating the effects of caffeine from other factors such as alcohol and medication.

The data was then computerized. Without question, the preliminary findings show that caffeine has "bad" effects on some infants. The study determined that "higher levels" of reduced muscle tone and lowered activity occurred in babies of women drinking eight or more cups of coffee daily.

No birth defects from caffeine were actually authenticated. It will also take additional research to determine whether excessive caffeine drinkers suffered more miscarriages and spontaneous be checked again to see whether the bad United States" and numbered 24C-0

Animal tests have also revealed the caffeine dangers. The most dramatic is a Food and Drug Administration study, not vet released to the public, which will show marked "degeneration of testes" in rats exposed to high levels of caffeine. How a Yale man is made

WASHINGTON-A very interesting experiment is taking place at Yale University these days.

Because of an employees' strike of 1,400 service workers, the students have been faced with cleaning their own bedrooms and bathrooms, as well as their dormitories.

While most of the 10,000 students were prepared intellectually to cope with the tough Yale curriculum, very few knew anything about how to clean a bathroom or make a bed. It has changed all of them as I discovered when I visited a family who had a Yalie home for Thanksgiving.

His mother said proudly while we were sitting in the Whitman living room, "Ezra knows how to hang up a suit in a

"Aw Ma," said Ezra. "Don't make such a big deal of it."

But Mr. Whitman chimed in. "Not only that, he knows how to clean a bathtub, and he's only a junior."

"You must be very proud of him," I

"Proud isn't the word," Mrs. Whitman said. "Do you know that this morning he put his socks, his shirt and his underwear in the laundry hamper without being

"I wish my kid could do that," I said.

"It sounds difficult," Ezra said. "But actually, once you get the hang of it it's not that hard. You see, instead of just dropping your coat on the floor, you take it off and carry it to the banister. Of course it takes practice.' Mrs. Whitman said, "The kids who go to Harvard, Princeton and MIT still throw their coats on the floor. Only Yale has a program in coat hanging.' Mr. Whitman said, "Ezra knows how to wash a frying pan.

"I don't believe it." I said. "And he's only 21 years old. Doesn't the pressure get to you sometimes?

Ezra replied, "Sure it does, but when the going gets tough you rise to it. Frankly, I never thought when I went to Yale that I'd ever have to wash a frying pan, and neither did any of the other kids. But the one thing I've learned is that food tastes lousy if you don't wash your frying pan. Our chemistry teacher showed us

Mrs. Whitman beamed. "I know you're not going to believe this but Ezra now knows how to put the garbage out to be picked up by the trash men.

"I thought you didn't do that until you went to graduate school," I said

"We didn't in the past. But Yale has a remedial program in garbage," Ezra said. "They found for the first time that undergraduates could handle it. My college advisor said I ought to think about going into the trash business. He says I have a natural bent for it."

I looked at Ezra's proud parents. "I never thought I'd live to see the day when a college student could hang up his own suit in the closet, put his dirty laundry in a hamper, wash a frying pan and know how to take out the garbage.

"And make his own bed," Mrs. Whitman added.

"Yale has made a man out of you,

Is 'secular humanism' another religion?

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

HARRISBURG, Pa. - In a provocative essay just published by the Institute for Humane Studies, a leading constitutional lawyer has raised a fine constitutional question: What is an "establishment of religion"? Are some of our public school classrooms trespassing on the first Amend-

The lawyer is William B. Ball. Twenty-odd years ago he was a professor of constitutional law at Villanova; for the past

Kilpatrick 17 years he has been practicing in Harrisburg, Pa., and if that seems an odd place to find a great constitutional scholar, so be it. At 61, Ball ranks at the very top of this list of lawyers who specialize in areas of religious freedom. He has fought for the rights of Amish, others, and his name is engraved on such landmark cases in recent years as Wisconsin v. Yoder and Ohio v. Whisner.

Ball's essay deals with four constitutional aspects of education in America today. He is concerned with compulsory attendance laws, with state control of private schools, with certain applications of tax funds, and with rights of conscience in public education. In this last area, he turns around on a novel proposition. To paraphrase: He wonders if the educational establishment—that mystic amalgam of educationists, school administrators, federal bureaucrats and textbook publishers— has imposed upon the classrooms a body of thought that is constitutionally indistinguishable from an "establishment of religion."

It is an intricate argument, but it is worth your time to follow his thinking. The First Amendment says that Congress shall make no law respecting an

Mennonites and Dunkards, among establishment of religion. That proscription, by judicial decree, long since has been extended to the states. (All the states, in any event, have such a provision in their own constitutions.) The custom has been to regard the phrase, "establishment of religion," solely in the traditional sense of ecclesiastical teaching. Thus, in the famous New York prayer case, it was held unconstitutional for public school pupils to recite a 22word prayer composed by the state

Very well, says Ball. But why stop

'I believe that it is possible," he writes, "not only theoretically, but practically, to offer proof of the establishment of secular humanism in given public schools, but I perceive the problem of rights of conscience in the public schools as being broader than the scope of secular humanism. There are many practices in public schools that are offensive, not because they are identifiable as pertaining to many areas of morality, part of a secular humanist program, but and are capable of severely disorienting because they directly offend beliefs and a child psychologically. attitudes of given children and parents." On this point, Ball recalls the flaming controversy a couple of years ago over a federally funded program of moral indoctrination known as "Man: A Course of Studies," or MACOS. The program so outraged members of Congress that the National Science Foundation was compelled to back away from it.

The forbidden prayer in New York, Ball notes, "was the merest expression of theistic sentiment, which, even if persisted in, was not going to radically alter any child's life.

"That 22-word prayer is now unconstitutional. Compare that with such programs as MACOS or HEW's latest job, 'The New Model Me.' These latter programs go to the very vitals of a child's existence, probe into his family relationships, directly attack Christian values problems are not insurmountable. In his view, public disenchantment with the public schools is growing. "Ours is the most expensive schooling the world has ever known, and its incompetence is rapidly becoming worse." Many parents and taxpayers, he believes, "may feel that on purely secular grounds, they ought not be required to contribute to the support of bad education."

Ball cheerfully acknowledges that proving his thesis in court would present difficult problems, but he thinks the

Within the educational establishment, these are blasphemous assertions, but Ball has been badgering the panjandrums of public education for too many years to hold them in awe. One of these days, he may yet get them in court on the state's power, not to educate, but to indoctrinate instead.

Government cracking down on workmen's comp cheats

Virginia shipyard mechanic retires at government expense after suffering an on-the-job back injury that he claims keeps him from doing even light clerical work. He is later seen playing ball, running foot races and dancing at a local night club.

A New York postal worker is given disability pay after saying he hurt his arm so badly that he cannot pick up a letter. He later bowls a game so remarkable that a local newspaper features him in an article.

These and other incidents have forced the government to start cracking down on what a House committee last year termed a growing attitude among federal workers that the compensation program for federal employees suffering on-thejob injuries is "another form of fringe
